

To whom it may concern,

I'm writing this letter of recommendation for Kitiya Kongkrailas. I am a software developer working for DST Systems, a large firm in the financial industry in Kansas City, MO, USA. In a previous position I worked in my company's Architecture Modernization group as the primary liaison between teams in Kansas City and Bangkok, Thailand. I had numerous opportunities to work closely with Kitiya and I was very impressed with her professionalism, programming skills and her ability to quickly understand project requirements. She is also good at identifying and reporting any issues that may arise during the project life cycle. Her command of the English language made it very easy to communicate with her.

In June 2011 I had the opportunity to travel to Bangkok and I met Kitiya in person. In addition to the above mentioned qualities I also found that Kitiya has great people skills and brings out the best in her coworkers.

Kitiya Kongkrailas is a talented individual with both the technical and interpersonal skills to enhance any company or university that has the opportunity to work with her.

Thanks,

Doug Phillips
